The Force Behind
Children's Advocacy Centers

Testimonials from victim advocates who participated in the E3 Training:

"E3 allowed me to have the peer review experience that is much needed for all family advocates"—Rosario Terron, The Center for Family Justice, Bridgeport, CT

"The screening tool was easy to use and helped parents have a better understanding of what is going on under the surface with their children."—Tonya Murray, Uintah/Daggett County Children's Justice Center, Vernal, UT

"Our center is located in Boulder; Colorado and we appreciated the opportunity to be part of E3. I personally found new ways to engage families and partner with them using TIES and the screener. We also implemented a more formal referral process that helps us track not just how many referrals we sent out for treatment, but that will also show us how many children got better by engaging in mental health."—Erik Padilla, Blue Sky Bridge CAC

"E3 helped me understand my role in a different view and learn from my peers."—Rosario Terron, The Center for Family Justice, Bridgeport, CT

"As a result of E3, our advocates have done a better job identifying and reducing barriers to therapy."—Tonya Murray, Uintah/Daggett County Children's Justice Center, Vernal, UT

"As a result of the training, we've seen our advocates build skills in motivational interviewing and empower parents to seek therapy not only for their kids but also themselves."—Tonya Murray, Uintah/Daggett County Children's Justice Center, Vernal, UT
